Community policing in Ljubljana

Community-oriented policing begins with the professional attitude of each police officer. To achieve professional knowledge/skills and our common goals, we have developed;

- education and training programs
- projects with different stakeholders on different topics
- evaluation of public opinion
- independent complaint procedures
- community policing concept
- multiinstitutional teams
- preventive activities

Police work in the community is built on trust

At the Police Directorate of Ljubljana we give a lot attention to the field of preventive activities, which represents an important part of police work. The field of preventive is interdisciplinary and therefore requests also the cooperation of internal and external institutions. The general tasks of prevention are to find, follow, analyze and remove the causes of criminal offences, and to raise the level of self-protective behavior of the citizens – work with the victims of crime and cooperation or advising the citizens, companies and institutions respectively in relation with the protection of persons and property.

Preventive activities

One of the component parts of most police tasks and measures is also the preventive activity, which is carried out in a form of proper oral counselling and admonishment, counselling and admonishment through media, meetings, round panels, consultations, workshops, promotions of the police and other forms.

One form of the preventive work are for sure also the "days of open doors" at police stations where we present to the visitors the work and technical equipment of the police and the wider complex of preventive security in the field of crime (burglaries, robberies, illicit drugs).

Community policing concept

- Community policing area
- Community policing officer
- Local safety councils

Policing in a multicultural society

Our vision of work is to ensure respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms to all persons in police procedures, including members of minority and ethnic communities.

For example, the police have been building a partnership with the Roma community for years, in particular through community policing and a number of operational and preventive activities.

Projects

- Police preventive projects, online bullying, peer violence, domestic violence, sexual abuse, Safe way to school, and back Police officer Leon, participation in exhibitions, fairs (third life stage, student bazaar...),
- Research projects on the topic of security (hate speech, longitudinal measurement of trust in police work and the police, online bullying, domestic violence).
- EU projects; Pericles, EU crime prevention network EUCPN, RAILPOL, CEPOL exchange programme, many others...
- Media activities, online activities, communication with the local publics about local topics related to security issues
